

ECC Specialist – ARH Essendon Fields

Melbourne Australia | No Overnights or On Call | Visa & Relocation Support!

Have you considered working in Australia?

Melbourne can offer you a unique blend of professional challenge and lifestyle, from cutting-edge emergency and critical care to laid-back weekends at the beach and a world-renowned food and coffee culture. You'll also encounter fascinating cases rarely seen in the U.S., like snake envenomation and tick paralysis.

We have a major purpose-built hospital expansion underway, we're offering the rare chance to not only join a world-class team but also become a shareholder (if you choose) allowing you to help shape the future of the hospital while sharing in its success.

About ARH Essendon Fields.

ARH Essendon Fields is a multi-disciplinary specialist hospital and we are part of the country's largest contingent of Veterinary clinicians and specialists, providing unparalleled opportunities for collaboration and professional development.

Located in the heart of Melbourne's north west we will be undergoing a major expansion into a new purpose built facility, providing the exciting chance to contribute your expertise and help shape the future of the custom designed site.

The new site will more than double in size, featuring 1,250 sqm of advanced veterinary facilities, including a dedicated Critical Care Unit, 9 consultation rooms, 4 surgeries (including an ECC surgery), and cutting-edge imaging technology with MRI, CT, X-ray, and ultrasound.

Our team consists of a surgery department which include three specialists, one resident, two interns, and dedicated support nurses. Our Emergency and Critical Care department operates as a standalone unit, supported by approximately 20 veterinarians working shifts to provide 24/7 care to our patients. Our Medicine team comprises of three experienced Internal Medicine Specialists and highly skilled nursing staff. Additionally, we benefit from the expertise of a visiting specialist ophthalmologist and a visiting specialist anaesthetist, ensuring comprehensive support across disciplines.

About the Role

The role will be clinical based with the focus being on improving the skills and knowledge of the current team and also include management of interns. You will be working alongside an established and experienced emergency Vet team that is managed by the ECC Vet Manager.

Our team consists of approximately 20 full-time and part-time ECC vets and nurses, supported by a consistent casual team. We maintain an excellent 1 vet to 2 nurse ratio, ensuring strong support and collaboration during every shift.

You will have access to all the items required to practice emergency and critical care at the highest level, including intensive care ventilators, blood gas analysis, dedicated ECC theatre, cage-side ultrasound and on-site CT and MRI. We encourage case collaboration, and you will have the advantage of working closely with the Surgery and Medicine Specialists to deliver the best standard of care to your patients.

And because we believe in building a great team culture we hold monthly Vet meetings and celebrate Fridays with Fun Scrub Fridays!

If you choose to become a shareholder, you'll enjoy:

- A stake in the business, offering financial benefits and long-term security.
- Active involvement in key decision-making and business direction.
- Collaborative, forward-thinking environment with a focus on continued growth.
- Comprehensive support, allowing you to focus on providing exceptional clinical care.
